INDEX OF VOLUME XXXI (1970)

(Names of contributors appear in SMALL CAPITALS)

Absolute space, More and Newton on, 289–96

Aesthetics, Reid's lectures, 17–32

Aids to Reflection, Kant and Coleridge's, 199–218

American thought, James on the emotions, 133–42; chemical warfare, 297–304; colonization in revolutionary thought, 337–58; "survival of the fittest," 377–98; science and morality in T. C. Chamberlin, 441–56

BAKER, WILLIAM J., 433–40

BANNISTER, ROBERT C., 377–98

BAUER, ROBERT J., 281–88

Behemoth, study of, 179–98

Bentham's second rule, 462–63

Berdyaev, N., political implications of his philosophy, 121–28

Berkeley, and problem of evil, 543–54

BOAS, GEORGE, 148–51 The History of Ideas: an Introduction, reviewed, 617–19; comment, 620–21

Borelli, Giovanni, problem of animate motion, 219–34

BOSTETTER, EDWARD E., 99–108

Boyle, Locke and ideal of scientific knowledge, 3–16; More and Newton on absolute space, 289–96

Bradley, F. H., organicism, 413–32

British thought, Locke and ideal of scientific knowledge, 3–16; Reid's lectures on aesthetics, 17–32; Godwin and Malthus, 33–48; Coleridge's On the Passions, 99–108; Hobbes's Behemoth, 179–98; Kant and Coleridge's Aids to Reflection, 199–218; More and Newton on absolute space, 289–96; idea of chemical warfare, 297–304; colonization in American revolutionary thought, 337–58; organicism, 413–32; Wilberforce on Negro inferiority, 433–40; Hume's philosophy of political economy, 457–61; Newton on science and religion, 521–42; Berkeley and problem of evil, 543–54; Swift on medical extremism, 599–606; Hobbes on law of heresy, 607–13; Hobbes's knowledge of law, 614–15; Bentham's second rule, 462–63

CAMPBELL, L. BLAIR, 555–72

Carey, Henry, "survival of the fittest," 377–98

Cassirer, E., Galileo and Platonistic methodology, 501–20

Chamberlin, Thomas C., science and morality in, 441–56

Classical thought, poetic inspiration in Greek literature, 163–78; temple, synagogue, and Hebrew precedent, 273–76; Wells on Christmas in early New Testament criticism, 277–80; Stoicism on the best regime, 323–36

Coleridge, On the Passions, 99–108; Aids to Reflection and Kant, 199–218

Colonization, v. Kammen

Conceit, v. Bauer

Croce and Meinecke on historicism, 253–72

Crombie, A. C., Galileo and Platonist methodology, 501–20

CULOTTA, M. C., 273–76

Darwin, C., Soviet genetics and Marxism-Leninism, 359–76; "survival of the fittest," 377–98; organicism, 413–32

Descartes, Locke on ideal of scientific knowledge, 3–16; on ani-

mate motion, 219–34; epistemology, 281–88; on absolute space, 289–96; robot and automation, 555–72
DEVINE, FRANCIS E., 323–36
DRAKE, STILLMAN, 483–500
Drieu La Rochelle, Pierre, romanticism, realism, and fascism of, 69–90

Economy, Hume on political, 457–61
EDWARDS, PAUL, 143–45
Eighteenth century thought, Reid's lectures on aesthetics, 17–32; Godwin and Malthus, 33–48; Kant and Coleridge's Aids to Reflection, 199–218; colonization in American revolutionary thought, 337–58; Wilberforce on Negro inferiority, 433–40; Hume's political philosophy, 457–61; Bentham's second rule, 462–63; multidimensional Enlightenment, 465–74; Newton on science and religion, 521–42; Berkeley and problem of evil, 543–54; La Mettrie, robot, and automaton, 555–72; Swift on medical extremism, 599–606
Encyclopedia of Philosophy, reply to review of, 143–45; comments on reply, 146–47
Enlightenment, The, vol. II reviewed, 463–72
Enlightenment, v. Eighteenth century
Epistemology, Renaissance, 281–88
Evil, Berkeley and problem of, Kant and Coleridge's Aids to Reflection, 199–218; Berkeley and problem of, 543–54
Evolution, v. Darwin
Experimental science, music and origins of, 483–500

Fabricius ab Aquapende, animate motion, 219–34
Fascism, romanticism, and realism in D. La Rochelle, 69–90
FEINSTEIN, HOWARD M., 133–42
Fifteenth century thought, primitivism in Machiavelli, 91–98; Renaissance epistemology, 281–88; Renaissance music and experimental science, 483–500
FISHER, JOHN, 617–19
Formalist views, Russian, 339–412
French thought, national self-determination, 49–68; romanticism, realism, and fascism in D. La Rochelle, 69–90; animate motion, 219–34; La Mettrie, robot, and automaton, 555–72
Freud, hidden Zionist theme in, 129–32; James on emotions, 133–42

Galilei, Galileo, animate motion, 219–34; on absolute space, 289–98; and Platonistic methodology, 501–20
Galilei, Vincenzo, Renaissance music and experimental science, 483–500
GARNER, WILLIAM R., 121–28
Garson, Judith, 399–412
Genetics, Soviet, 359–76
Geology, science and morality in Chamberlin, 441–56
George, Henry, "survival of the fittest," 377–98; European thought and non-European nationalism, 573–88
German thought, national self-determination, 49–68; influences on romanticism, realism, and fascism of D. La Rochelle, 69–90; young Marx, 109–20; Zionist theme in Freud, 129–32; Kant and Coleridge, 199–218; "New Left" of restoration Germany, 235–52; Meinecke on historicism, 253–72; idea of chemical warfare, 297–304; Heer's Intellectual History of Europe, 305–10; European thought and non-European nationalism, 573–88
Gilded Age, "survival of the fittest," 377–98
GIRILL, T. R., 501–20
Godwin, Wm., and Malthus, 33–48

Greek thought, poetic inspiration in ancient, 163–78; Platonist methodology, 501–20
Gunpowder and idea of progress, 589–98
HAMMEN, OSCAR J., 109–20
Harvey, Wm., animate motion, 219–34
Hebrew thought, temple, synagogue, and precedent, 273–76
Heer, Friedrich, Intellectual History of Europe reviewed, 305–10
Hegelians, Young, "New Left" of restoration Germany, 235–52
Herder, on the Enlightenment, 465–74
Heresy, Hobbes on, and his knowledge of law, 607–15
HERSHBELL, JACKSON P., 543–54
Historicism, in Croce and Meinecke, 253–72
History of Ideas: an Introduction, reviewed, 617–19
Hobbes, Behemoth, 179–98; on law of heresy and knowledge of law, 607–15
Hume, on American colonization, 337–58; philosophy of political economy, 457–62
Ideas, The History of: an Introduction, reviewed, 617–19
Intellectual History of Europe, The, reviewed, 305–10
Italian thought, primitivist element in Machiavelli, 91–98; animate motion, 219–34; Renaissance epistemology, 281–88; influence on More and Newton on absolute space, 289–98; Renaissance music and experimental science, 483–500; Galileo and Platonist methodology, 501–20
James, Wm., on emotions, 133–42
JAYNES, JULIAN, 219–34
Jefferson, T., on colonization in American revolutionary thought, 337–58
KAMMEN, MICHAEL, 337–58
Kant, on national self-determination, 49–68; and Coleridge's Aids to Reflection, 199–218
KIVY, PETER, 17–32
Koyré, Alexandre, Galileo and Platonist methodology, 501–20
KRIEGER, LEONARD, 305–10
LACASCE, STEWARD, 599–606
La Mettrie, on robot and automaton, 555–72
La Rochelle, Pierre Drieu, q.v., Drieu
Law of heresy, Hobbes on and knowledge of, 607–15
Lenin, on national self-determination, 49–68; D. La Rochelle on, 83; on Darwinism, 359–76
Literature, poetic inspiration in Greek, 163–78; Coleridge's On the Passions, 99–108; The Study of Literature reviewed, 148–51; use of conceit in the Renaissance, 281–88; Russian formalist views, 399–412; the Russian soul, 573–88; Swift on medical extremism, 599–606
Locke, and ideal of scientific knowledge, 3–16; and Renaissance epistemology, 281–88; on colonization in American revolutionary thought, 337–58
LOEWENBERG, PETER, 129–32
LUTZ, ROLLAND RAY, JR., 235–52
LYON, ROBERT, 457–61
MACGILLIVRAY, ROYCE, 179–98
Machiavelli, primitivism in, 91–98
Malthus and Godwin, 33–48
Marx, young, reconsidered, 109–20; Berdyaev's philosophy and, 121–28; the "New Left" of restoration Germany, 235–52; Darwinism and Marxism-Leninism, 359–76; Russian formalist views, 339–412
Medical extremism, v. LaCasce
Meinecke and Croce on historicism, 253–72
Metaphysics of culture, v. Shaffer
MIKULAK, MAXIM W., 359–76

MILES, WYNDHAM D., 297–304
MINTZ, SAMUEL I., 614–15
Morality and science in T. C. Chamberlin, 441–56
More, H., and Newton on absolute space, 289–96
Motion, animate, in the 17th century, 219–34
Music and experiment in the Renaissance, 483–500
Nationalism, self-determination, 49–68; Zionist theme in Freud, 129–32; "New Left" of restoration Germany, 235–52; colonization in American revolutionary thought, 337–58; the Russian soul, 573–88
Negro, Wilberforce vs. inferiority of, 433–40
Neo-idealism, of "New Left" in Germany, 235–52; organicism in 19th and 20th centuries, 413–32
Newton, and Locke on scientific knowledge, 3–16; and More on absolute space, 289–96; on science and religion, 521–42
New Left in Germany, 235–52
New Testament criticism, Wells on Christmas in early, 277–80
Nineteenth century thought, Godwin and Malthus on population, 33–48; national self-determination; 49–68; Coleridge's On the Passions, 99–108; young Marx reconsidered, 109–20; Zionist theme in Freud, 129–32; James on the emotions, 133–42; Kant and Coleridge's Aids to Reflection, 199–218; "New Left" of Germany, 235–52; idea of chemical warfare, 297–304; Darwinism, Soviet genetics, and Marxism-Leninism, 359–76; "survival of the fittest," 377–98; organicism, 413–32; Wilberforce vs. Negro inferiority, 433–40; science and morality in T. C. Chamberlin, 441–56; Bentham's second rule, 462–63; European thought and non-European nationalism, 573–88
On the Passions, Coleridge's, 99–108
Organicism, v. Phillips
OSLER, MARGARET J., 3–16
PHILLIPS, D. C., 413–32
Plato, poetic inspiration, 163–78; Galileo and methodology of, 501–20
Political theory, population and, 33–48; national self-determination, 49–68; fascism of D. La Rochelle, 69–90; primitivism in Machiavelli, 91–98; young Marx, 109–20; implications of Berdyaev's philosophy, 121–28; Stoicism on the best regime, 323–36; colonization in American revolutionary thought, 337–58; "survival of the fittest," 377–98; Hume's political economy, 457–61
Population, v. Rosen
POWER, J. E., 289–96
Primitivism in Machiavelli, 91–98
Procreation, conceit in Renaissance epistemology, 281–88
Progress, gunpowder and idea of, 589–98
RANDLE, ROBERT, 49–68
Realism, and romanticism in fascism of D. La Rochelle, 69–90; Russian soul, 573–88
Reid, Thomas, unpublished lectures on aesthetics, 17–32
Religion, implications of Berdyaev's philosophy, 121–28; Zionist theme in Freud, 129–32; poetic inspiration in Greek literature, 163–78; and "New Left" in Germany, 235–52; temple, synagogue, and Hebrew precedent, 273–76; Wells on Christmas in early New Testament criticism, 277–80; More and Newton on absolute space, 289–96; Newton on science and, 521–42; Berkeley and problem of evil, 543–54; Hobbes on heresy, 607–13

Renaissance, primitivism in Machiavelli, 91–98; epistemology in, 281–88; music and experimental science in, 483–500; Galileo and Platonist methodology, 501–20; gunpowder and idea of progress, 589–98
Reviews, The Study of Literature, 148–51; The Intellectual History of Europe, 305–12; The Enlightenment, Vol. II, 463–72; The History of Ideas: an Introduction, 617–19
Rhetoric of gunpowder and idea of progress, 589–98
RICHARDS, EDWARD B., 121–28
Robot and automaton, 555–72
Romanticism, and realism in fascism of D. La Rochelle, 69–90; Coleridge's On the Passions, 99–108
ROSEN, FREDERICK, 33–48
Russian thought, national self-determinism, 49–68; political implication of Berdyaev's philosophy, 121–28; Darwinism, Soviet genetics, and Marxism-Leninism, 359–76; formalist views, 399–412; European thought and non-European nationalism, 573–88
Science, Locke and changing ideal of scientific knowledge, 3–16; Coleridge's On the Passions, 99–108; James on the emotions, 133–42; animate motion, 219–34; More and Newton on absolute space, 289–96; chemical warfare, 297–304; Darwinism, Soviet genetics, and Marxism-Leninism, 359–76; organicism, 413–32; and morality in T. C. Chamberlin, 441–56; Renaissance music and experimental, 483–500; Galileo and Platonist methodology, 501–20; Newton on religion and, 521–43
Seventeenth century thought, Locke and ideal of scientific knowledge, 3–16; Hobbes's Behemoth, 179–98; animate motion in, 219–34; Galileo and Platonist methodology, 483–500; gunpowder and idea of progress, 589–98; Swift on medical extremism, 599–606; Hobbes on law of heresy and knowledge of law, 607–15
SHAFFER, ELINOR S., 199–218
SMITH, CONSTANCE I., 462–63
Social Darwinism, romanticism and realism in fascism of D. La Rochelle, 69–90; "survival of the fittest," 377–98; organicism, 413–32
SOLMSEN, FRIEDRICH, 277–80
SOUCY, ROBERT, 69–90
Spencer, Herbert, "survival of the fittest," 377–98
Stoicism on the best regime, 323–36
Study of Literature, The, reviewed, 148–51
Swift, J., on medical extremism, 599–606
Synagogue, temple, and Hebrew precedent, 273–76
TIGERSTEDT, E. N., 163–78
Twentieth century thought, national self-determinism, 49–68; romanticism and realism in D. La Rochelle, 69–90; Berdyaev's political philosophy, 121–28; Croce and Meinecke on historicism, 253–72; modern chemical warfare, 297–304; Darwinism, Soviet genetics, and Marxism-Leninism, 359–76; Russian formalist views, 399–412; science and morality in T. C. Chamberlin, 441–56; Russian soul, 573–88
WALEY, DANIEL, 91–98
War, Hobbes's Behemoth, 179–98
Ward, Lester F., "survival of the fittest," 377–98
Watson, George A., The Study of Literature reviewed, 148–51
Wells, George, on Christmas in early New Testament criticism, 277–80
WIENER, PHILIP P., 146–47
Wilberforce, Wm., on idea of Negro inferiority, 433–40
WILLIAMS, ROBERT C., 573–88
WILLMAN, ROBERT, 607–13
WINNIK, HERBERT C., 441–56
WOLPER, ROY S., 589–98
Zionist theme in Freud, 129–32

CONTENTS OF VOLUME XXXI (1970)

	Issue No.	Page
Austin, William H.: Isaac Newton on Science and Religion	4	521
Baker, William J.: William Wilberforce on the Idea of Negro Inferiority	3	433
Bannister, Robert C.: "The Survival of the Fittest Is Our Doctrine": History or Histrionics?	3	377
Bauer, Robert J.: A Phenomenon of Renaissance Epistemology	2	281
Boas, George: Review of Watson's The Study of Literature	1	148
Boas, George: Comments on "Introducing the History of Ideas"	4	620
Bostetter, Edward E.: Coleridge's Manuscript Essay On the Passions	1	99
Campbell, Blair: La Mettrie: The Robot and the Automaton	4	555
Culotta, M. C.: The Temple, the Synagogue, and Hebrew Precedent	2	273
Devine, Francis E.: Stoicism on the Best Regime	3	323
Drake, Stillman: Renaissance Music and Experimental Science	4	483
Edwards, Paul: Reply to a Review	1	143
Feinstein, Howard M.: William James on the Emotions	1	133
Fisher, John: Introducing the History of Ideas	4	617
Garner, William R.: The Political Implications of Nicholas Berdyaev's Philosophy	1	121
Garson, Judith: Literary History: Russian Formalist Views, 1916–1928	3	399
Girill, T. R.: Galileo and Platonistic Methodology	4	501
Hammen, Oscar J.: The Young Marx, Reconsidered	1	109
Hershbell, Jackson P.: Berkeley and the Problem of Evil	4	543
Jaynes, Julian: The Problem of Animate Motion in the Seventeenth Century	2	219
Kammen, Michael: The Meaning of Colonization in American Revolutionary Thought	3	337
Kivy, Peter: Lectures on the Fine Arts: An Unpublished Manuscript of Thomas Reid's	1	17
Kohn, Hans: The Multidimensional Enlightenment	3	463
Krieger, Leonard: Intellectual History as Art	2	305
LaCasce, Steward: Swift on Medical Extremism	4	599
Loewenberg, Peter: A Hidden Zionist Theme in Freud's "My son, the Myops. . ." Dream	1	129
Lutz, Rolland Ray, Jr.: The "New Left" of Restoration Germany	2	235
Lyon, Robert: Notes on Hume's Philosophy of Political Economy	3	457
MacGillivray, Royce: Thomas Hobbes's History of the English Civil War: A Study of Behemoth	2	179
Mikulak, Maxim W.: Darwinism, Soviet Genetics, and Marxism-Leninism	3	359
Miles, Wyndham D.: The Idea of Chemical Warfare in Modern Times	2	297
Mintz, Samuel I.: Hobbes's Knowledge of the Law: A Reply	4	614
Osler, Margaret J.: John Locke and the Changing Ideal of Scientific Knowledge	1	3
Phillips, D. C.: Organicism in the Late Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Centuries	3	413
Pois, Robert A.: Two Poles within Historicism: Croce and Meinecke	2	253
Power, J. E.: Henry More and Issac Newton on Absolute Space	2	289
Randle, Robert: From National Self-Determination to National Self-Development	1	49
Richards, Edward B.: The Political Implications of Nicholas Berdyaev's Philosophy	1	121
Rosen, Frederick: The Principle of Population as Political Theory: Godwin's Of Population and the Malthusian Controversy	1	33
Shaffer, Elinor S.: Metaphysics of Culture: Kant and Coleridge's Aids to Reflection	2	199
Smith, Constance I.: Bentham's Second Rule	3	462
Solmsen, Friedrich: George A. Wells on Christmas in Early New Testament Criticism	2	277

Soucy, Robert: Romanticism and Realism in the Fascism of Drieu La Rochelle 1 69
Tigerstedt, E. N.: Furor Poeticus: Poetic Inspiration in Greek Literature before Democritus and Plato 2 163
Waley, Daniel: The Primitivist Element in Machiavelli's Thought 1 91
Wiener, Philip P.: Comments on Professor Edwards' Reply 1 146
Williams, Robert C.: The Russian Soul: A Study in European Thought and Non-European Nationalism 4 573
Willman, Robert: Hobbes on the Law of Heresy: A Further Note 4 607
Winnik, Herbert C.: Science and Morality in Thomas C. Chamberlin 3 441
Wolper, Roy S.: The Rhetoric of Gunpowder and the Idea of Progress 4 589

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We wish to acknowledge with thanks the generous editorial collaboration of the following scholars during 1970: Stuart Atkins, Sidney Axinn, Hans Baron, Hugh Barbour, Monroe Beardsley, Robert Bierstedt, John Cassidy, Allen Davis, Stillman Drake, Charles Dyke, Peter Gay, David G. Hale, Joseph Hennessy, Henry Hoenigswald, Banesh Hoffman, Sidney Hook, Samuel Hynes, Charles Kahn, Richard Kindersley, Frank Manuel, Jürgen Mittelstrass, Ferrater Mora, J. Mitchell Morse, H. T. Parker, William R. Quinnell, J. M. Robson, Jerrold Seigel, Kee Soo Shin, Judith Shklar, Tom T. Tashiro, Craig Thompson, Giorgio Tonelli, Helen P. Trimpi, Marjorie Wiener, Harry A. Wolfson, Roy S. Wolper, John W. Yolton, René Wellek, Ihor Zevcenko.

ERRATUM

Professor Alan Cywar in his article "John Dewey Toward Domestic Reconstruction, 1915–1920" inadvertently named Sidney Ratner instead of Joseph Ratner as the editor of Characters and Events, a collection of Dewey's articles. The error occurred in the October 1969 issue of this Journal, page 387, footnote 6, line 3. The author and editors extend their apologies to Dr. Joseph Ratner for this error.